Comments and other instructions

- Merit badge counseling involves conferences with candidates to help establish programs toward fulfilling requirements, assistance to help a candidate achieve the required knowledge and skills, examination to demonstrate to the counselor's satisfaction that the candidate has met all requirements, and certification that the candidate is eligible for award of the merit badge.
- Merit Badge Counselors are among the finest people in the community. They are people who are successful in the respective fields and interests. They are people who believe in the Scouting program enough to give valuable time to help Scouts advance.
- One purpose of the merit badge program is to create new boy-adult contacts beyond those already existing in troops; accordingly you are encouraged to serve boys from troops with which you have no other association.
- As a Merit Badge Counselor you are required to register as an adult member of the Boy Scouts of America. There is no fee for this registration. You will then be certified as a Merit Badge Counselor by the district advancement committee.
- Your job as a Merit Badge Counselor will be to satisfy yourself that each scout who comes to you meets all the requirements for the merit badge. IN this sense you will be an examiner. But your larger opportunity lies in coaching - helping the Scout over the different hurdles of the requirements and making him aware of the deeper aspects of the subject from your knowledge and experience.
